

These bank people call leaving msg on my voice mail leading me to believe they have looked over my acc. and hav much better rate and plan then I hav. This leaves me confused,how would they get my personal info,n when I hav called them back to ask questions I'm told I was called in error. I just need left alone,I work to much to be worried about someone in my acc.